

MADE IN THE USA: President Trump's Vision is Revitalizing American Industry

The White House

May 30, 2025

President Donald J. Trump heads to Pennsylvania today, where he'll champion the partnership he brokered between U.S. Steel and Nippon Steel — a $14 billion investment that will create at least 70,000 jobs and ensure steel is made in America for decades to come.

AMERICAN JOBS, AMERICAN STEEL.

The landmark agreement comes alongside a host of companies from across industries that are onshoring their production and investing in American manufacturing as President Trump relentlessly pursues his America First trade policies.

Look no further than the automotive industry:

- Stellantis announced a $5 billion investment in its U.S. manufacturing network, including re-opening its Belvidere, Illinois, plant and a $388 “megahub” in Detroit, Michigan.
- General Motors announced an $888 million investment at its propulsion plant in Tonawanda, New York.
